

Mobility and capabilities: education, training and apprenticeship of migrant women and men (16th-early 20th centuries)

University of Cambridge, Allison Richard Building, S3 (third floor)

Convenor: Beatrice Zucca Micheletto

9-9:15 Registration

9:15-9:30 Beatrice Zucca Micheletto (University of Cambridge), Welcome and introduction

9:30-10 Sarah Birt (Birkbeck University of London), Seeking a situation: women as economic migrants and livery company apprentices in early modern London

10-10:30 Deborah Simonton (University of Southern Denmark/ University of Turku), Apprenticeship, skills and mobility: British children in the eighteenth-century

10:30-11 Maija Ojala-Fulwood (University of Salzburg/ University of Tampere), Immobile or invisible? Female artisans, craft guilds and gendered spaces of mobility

11-11:30 coffee-break

11:30-12 Patrick Wallis (London School of Economics), Migration and apprenticeship in early modern England

12-12:30 Helen Berry (Newcastle University), Gendered education and the distribution of apprentices from the London Foundling Hospital, c. 1751-1834'

12:30-13 Francesca Biancani (University of Bologna), Targets of control, mobile targets. Foreign female migrants and their moral regulation in inter-war Cairo.

13-14:30 lunch

14:30-15 Beatrice Moring (University of Helsinki/Cambridge), Finnish migrant women in Stockholm in the 17th and 18th century

15:30-16 Nicoleta Roman (New Europe College/"Nicolae Iorga" Institute of History, Bucharest), Coming from abroad. Foreign women and girls' education in 19th century Wallachia

16-16:30 Coffee Break

16:30-17 Manuela Martini (Université Lumière Lyon 2-LARHRA), Views from the Homeland. Skills, Migration and Family Resources across Southern and Western Europe (late Nineteenth-early Twentieth century)

17-17:30 Maia Silbert (University of Oxford), Terms of Service: British Domestic Migrants to the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, 1902-1914

17:30-18 Marie Ruiz (University of Picardie- Jules Verne), Women and men of good character and capacity: British colonial training centers at the turn of the twentieth century

18-18:30 final remarks and conclusion

All welcome.

(workshop funded by the Marie Skłodowska-Curie Action, agreement n. 703737)

